Cheers to P.6 - Let's Make Secondary School Awesome!

When I leave primary school the person I will miss the most is Miss Yellow, my Maths teacher. She is super funny and always makes the class laugh, even when we are learning something difficult. I will miss her because she makes Maths fun and she always cheers me up when I feel stressed.

One of my best memories with Miss Yellow was during our class Maths competition last term. It happened in our classroom, and everyone was so nervous, but Miss Yellow started telling jokes and made us relax. Because of her, I felt confident and even answered the hardest question! I plan to keep in touch with her by sending emails and maybe visiting her during school holiday.

I am excited to go to secondary school because I want to meet new friends and learn new things. To prepare for it, I will review my Math notes and organize my school supplies. I hope my secondary school life will be as awesome as my time with Miss Yellow.

Cheers to P.6 - Let's Make Secondary School Awesome!

As I prepare to leave my primary school, I find myself having a nostalgia feeling on the people on the people who have made my journey memorable especially my class teacher, Miss Chan. It's because she always inspires me in English knowledge, she puts a lot of effort into her lessons, let us easy to understand the difficult wordings.

One of my best memories with Miss Chan was that she chose me to join the "Public Speaking Competition" this year. She taught me some presentation skills, how to make a PowerPoint nicely, helped me to build up my confidence and how to speak more clearly. I thank Miss Chan trust me and I will cherish those moments with her. To keep in touch with Miss Chan, I plan to visit her with my classmates in Secondary one.

Although I will miss Miss Chan so much, I am still excited to go to my secondary school. I believe this is a big challenge for me, I will prepare early in the summer holiday, like learning some knowledge I need to know in secondary school and to manage my time effectively. I am ready to have this new chapter of life!

Leadership camp

A month ago, we had a leadership camp, it was a joyful but tiring camp.

On the first day, we played zipline, rock climbing and many other activities. The activity I like most is rock climbing. At first, the workers helped me to wear safety gear. Then, I went climbing. It was hard to climb up along the rope. I struggled for a bit. At last, I successfully knocked on the ball that was on the top of the rope! It was so exciting.

At night, we went back to the bedroom. My friends and I chatted for a long time. We chatted until 1 a.m. Alisha even playing the game "Cinderella"! She used her shoes as the glass shoes which is in the story. She played it so funny. We all laughed happily.

On the second day, we had to leave the camp so we had to tidy our bedroom. After tidying the bedroom, the teachers came to check it. We successfully passed the checking. At last, we left the camp.

As a conclusion, this is an unforgettable leadership camp experience. I have learnt and tried many new adventures in the camp.

Leadership Camp

Last month, I went to the leadership camp with my classmates. I felt very excited. The weather was sunny.

When we got there, we had a tour of the campsite. All the activities looked very fun and I really wanted to play the zipline. Then, we went to our rooms. My friends and I volunteered to help carry the bedsheets to our room. Unexpectedly, the sheets were very heavy. We had to carry them. We almost got stuck on the stairs because we were very tired and couldn't carry the bedsheets anymore. Luckily, a teacher saw us and helped us carry them.

After that, we played the zipline. It was very exciting. I also played on the slide, which was very high. Afterward, we had dinner. It didn't taste good, but I still finished everything because I was hungry.

At night, we chatted for a long time. When we finally fell asleep, it was already 12:30 a.m.

The next morning, we had to do exercises in the morning. The exercises were exhausting. I felt dizzy and had a stomach ache after doing half of the exercises. Thankfully, after some rest, I felt a lot better.

Shortly after lunch, we left. On the bus ride back home, I fell asleep because I was so tired. When I got home that night, I fell asleep before even eating dinner.

Playing chess is fun

My hobby is playing chess. I have been playing chess since I was P.1 and I am still playing chess.

There are a lot of chess games in the world, but I favour the International chess the most. At the start of the game, each player has eight Pawns (soldiers), two Rooks (castle), two knights, two Bishops, one Queen and a King. When the game starts, the player with the white pieces moves first, the game continues until the King is eaten, the player with the eaten king loses and his opponent wins.

My most unforgettable chess game was when I play against Yui, I only had a Queen in the end game and he had a lot of pieces, but I still won, which was very hard.

I have learnt to be patient when I play chess because your opponent might think for a long time. I have also learnt that no one can win every chess game, but we mustn't cheat no matter what. Chess is not only a good game for kids but also for adults. I hope I can become a grandmaster like Mangus Carlson in the future. I will train harder to achieve my dream.

My hobbies

My hobby is to play video games, draw and read. I like to do these activities because of some benefits.

First, playing video games can help me reduce stress and have fun, some video games can help me learn by teaching me some new facts.

Second, drawing can help me use my imagination move often I can draw everything from using my imagination. Also, it can help me improve my visual arts skills.

Finally, reading can help me learn more new words and useful facts. It can also help me do revision by reading books.

Hobbies are important for me, because I can get many benefits. I also need to know how to manage my time properly.

Cheers to P.6 - Let's Make Secondary School Awesome!

It is a huge time for P.6 students after two months: graduation. I believe that all of them has been inundated with a multiple feeling, like excitement, reluctance or curiosity about secondary school. For me, I can't bear to say goodbye to all of teachers or classmates who have encouraged me, especially a girl named Hailey.

Hailey is a gentle and quiet girl with a very meticulous heart. I will miss her a lot because she is very patient for such an irritable person like me. Once, I wanted to draw a landscape but it's all unfamiliar to me. I consulted Hailey because of her extraordinary drawing skills. She taught me about the steps one by one patiently but suddenly I was angry of my terrible skills, she didn't change her mind but pointed out my mistake calmly. Finally, we finished our landscape together.

Hailey is also a conscious person. I remembered the time when we were selected by the teachers luckily to sit together, I was very excited because I thought we could chat together. The most unexpected thing is, she rejected me. I was confused at the first time and asked her why didn't she cherish this opportunity. She said, "We cannot slack off our academic results because of this." Her words inspired me a lot and from that time on, when we are confused of some questions, we will work on them to find out more solutions.

In conclusion, although I am sad to say "goodbye" to all the teachers and classmates, I am also looking forward to having my secondary life. In the coming summer holiday, I will read more English books and communicate more with other people to improve my grammar and communication skills. I hope I can adapt in the new environment sooner and keep in touch with my primary school friends.

Preparation for the exam

Exam is coming, so I'm going to study for my exam.

On Monday, I am going to review the WS, practise spelling the vocabulary and parts of speech. After that, I take out the grammar books to revise the tense I have learnt before.

On Thursday, I am going to review the student book to go over what I have learnt in the units. I will also read the reader "Sherlock Holmes: The Blue Diamond". This is a detective story, I think this story is interesting and exciting.

On Sunday, it is the last day I can study the exam revision notes, so I definitely try my best to study hard. I spell the vocab and study the pasts of speech again.

I have learnt that I should always study hard to prepare for the exam.

Cheers to P.6 - Let's Mark Secondary School Awesome!

We are approaching the end of P.6 soon, and I feel a mix of feelings! I am sad to say goodbye to my classmates and teachers who have been such an important part of my life. Among them, the person I will miss most is my best friend, Angela. She has always been there for me, helping me through challenges. We've spent so much time together that it will be hard to not see her every day.

One of my best memories with Angela was during our graduation camp last month. We took part in so many fun activities like having barbecue, playing team-building games, and celebrating at the farewell party. That night, we stayed up until one a.m., chatting about funny moments, sharing stories, and making silly faces at each other. We laughed so much that our sides hurt! It was a special moment where we promised to stay best friends forever. I plan to keep in touch with Angela by Whatsapp and meet up at weekends to keep our friendship strong.

As I prepare for secondary school, I am excited about meeting new people and joining different clubs. I want to try out new activities and make more new friends. To get ready, I will work on my students and make a time table to remind me study. Overall, I believe secondary school will be a great adventure filled with challenges and fun, and I'm ready to face the challenges ahead!
