Puppet show

During this summer holiday, I visited a few cities, but the traditional puppet show in Quanzhou, China, was the most special event I'd like to share.

At the end of July, I traveled to Quanzhou with my mother and grandparents by high-speed train. We went to watch a Chinese puppet show, where a man used his fingers to control a puppet monk. Its movements mimicked those of a real human, accompanied by the voice actor's devotion. The story was both interesting and funny.

I enjoyed the show because it was my first time watching one. My grandfather also bought me a puppet to bring home, so now I can practice my finger skills to play with it.

My trip the Hokkaido

During the summer holiday, I visited Hokkaido with my family. We saw colorful flowers at Farm Tomita and enjoyed the juiciest melon! Juice dripped down my chin, and the orange flesh was sweet. I want to go again next summer—it was so much fun! I felt very happy.

The Gundam Pavilion

I went to Japan in August with my family. We visited the Osaka World Expo 2025 and Hiroshima.

At the Gundam Pavilion, I saw a real Gundam. I also took an elevator to Space, where there was too much garbage. Then, the garbage transformed into an enemy called Zeong, which attacked us. Luckily, the Gundam saved us! It was amazing!

In this pavilion, I learned the importance of not creating so much garbage.

My unforgettable summer

This summer was memorable for me.

In July, I entered the final round of a piano performing competition in Vietnam, where I had the opportunity to perform with an orchestra.

I was nervous on stage, and the piano keys felt heavier than usual.

In the end, I won third prize. Although I'm proud of myself, I hope to do even better next time.

My summer holiday

During this summer holiday, I traveled to Tokyo for 22 days with my parents. I enjoyed a lot of delicious food, such as ramen, wagyu beef, beef tongue, and grilled pork. I visited many places, but the Pokémon Café was my favorite.

In addition, I had the opportunity to watch a Liverpool football match in Japan for the first time. It was very exciting!

This was an unforgettable trip, and I hope to travel again soon.

Memorable trip under typhoon in Zhuhai

During this holiday, I went to Zhuhai with my family. It was a special trip because there was a Typhoon Signal No. 10. The weather was very bad because it was rainy, windy, and stormy all the time.

Even though the malls were closed, luckily, my dad found a small local restaurant that sold chicken and noodles, so we could enjoy a delicious lunch.

When the weather improved, we visited two theme parks. We also did a lot of shopping and played claw machines.

It was an amazing trip, and I hope to travel to Zhuhai again!
