

My role model

Today, I am going to talk about my role model and how he inspired me so much that he changed my life. My biggest role model is my dad because he is so patient, wise and always help me when I am stuck or needed help.

My dad is very patient to me even when he just came back home from work or was just really annoyed. For example, there was one time when I was really annoyed but my dad helped me to calm down instead of scolding me. He also cools me off when I am moody or having a bad day.

My dad also helps me with schoolwork and my life. Once I didn't understand how the math equation works and I kept asking he questions, but he didn't mind at all, instead of whining, he helped me a lot. He also taught me some tricks like making to-do lists.

My dad is also a very wise person. He taught me basically every principle in my life, and recommend ways to organize my life.

I have learnt so much about life thanks to my role model: my dad. Thank you, dad, for all your love and support, if it weren't for you, I wouldn't have become what I am now.

What is growing up?

Growing up is a long journey, having many difficulties and chances. That experience was like a lighthouse showing the way to keep walking ahead in big sea full of different possibilities.

That time, was my first time doing a public presentation. Although I had already memorized the manuscript very well, however, when I was ready to go on stage, anxiousness and scariness took over my heart, "Let's give a round of applause!" said the host. The host's sound awoken the stunned me. Accompanied by some clapping sounds, I walked on the stage with nervous steps, those which were following were the cold sweat from my forehead and shaking legs. The spotlight was so shiny that I couldn't even open my eyes. Suddenly, I saw my teacher smiling at me. That smile was like a beam, driving away the fear in my mind. At that moment, my teacher's cheering sound was echoing in my ears. Then, I used my loud voice to attract the crowd's attention, and my face's sweat became a confident smile.

Starting from that speaking competition, my performance won me the crowd's great cheer and an excellent result, and I heard my teacher's words "Don't be afraid, you can do it!" The beginning is always the hardest. After walking over this hill of challenges, a new world beyond is waiting from me. I discovered that I gained more confidence, and stopped shrinking back in fear, afraid of new environments and challenges. I also learnt how to stay calm while dealing with pressure, and enjoy every competition and performance. More importantly, I learnt that the importance of perseverance, just as every moment of hard work is a vital part of growing up, this confirms hard work pays off again in my journey of life.

What is growing is growing up? Growing up is facing challenges directly, finding our own light in dilemmas. During this experience, I learnt that growing up is accumulation after every breakthrough, is the change of ourselves during each act of perseverance Just as David said in David Copperfield (a semi-autobiographical fiction written by Charles Dickens): "I have in my own heart thought sometimes that, after I have passed through the necessary suffering and trials, I could wave my hand in farewell, and then start afresh upon a new life..."

My favorite video games

You might think my favorite game is a famous game like Roblox or call of duty, but no, my favorite game is a game that's a branch of from the original version for the mobile audience. Which is war thunder mobile which was made by gaijin entertainment using the Dagor engine for the coding.

The game itself, it's a fast paced fighting game using a tech tree system with almost 14 tiers of armored vehicles from the 19th to the 21st century with golden eagles and silver lions as the currency with realistic models, maps, and even a fully fledged armor system with modules and armor penetrating system with different shells. It has an active fanbase and developers that update around every month and has seasonal events for Christmas, Chinese New Year and Halloween that gives you free vehicles if you get enough currency There are even aircraft and ships in other modes, but I will not be focusing on them because I don't usually play it

For events, they make gambling addictions because you could get a new vehicle with a one percent chance and other rewards are just a low or medium amount of money or a nametag.

For seasonal events, they are a bit better because they'll have a separate mode to get currency to buy the vehicles, they are meh because they are usually obscure or prototype vehicles that's stats are either good or bad.

Overall, the game is well polished and exciting. But the games matchmaking and balancing could be better.

Mother's Day

Last Sunday, it was Mother's Day. I celebrated with my mom, dad and my little sister. On that day, we were very happy.

The first thing that we did was having lunch in a big and famous restaurant. We had some seafood, meat, vegetables and some dessert. They were so yummy. Mom liked it so much.

Then I gave a present and a card to my mom. My sister gave a big hug and a big kiss to my mom. My mom felt so touched. My mom was feeling very joyful because of our loved actions.

At last, we have hotpot. We ordered many different dishes. Last but not least, we had a Mother's Day cake to my mom. The cake was so pretty and tasted yummy.

Mom said this was the best Mother's Day she had. I love my mum. Do you enjoy your Mother's Day?

On 4th November, 2025, I went to Pei Tam Yung Holiday Camp with my schoolmates and teachers. I felt delighted.

At eight o'clock, my schoolmates, my teachers and I went on the coach. At nine o'clock, we arrived there.

First, I played football with my groupmates. I run as fast as a leopard. Everyone was tired, but we continued to play. We were covered in sweat. Then, we rode bicycles. We rode as happy as a lark. Suddenly, I noticed everyone was gone. I was horrified. I rode as fast as I could to find my groupmates. Fortunately, I found them in a park. I was relieved.

Soon, we were all hungry. We took our food out and ate in a canteen. The food was delicious. We ate it all in a few minutes.

At twelve o'clock, we played again. We played football again. Unfortunately, we met some P3 students and they said, "We are strong and you guys can't win me!" I think that's easy, so I agreed. I battled him with my groupmates. Although the P3 students said they were skillful, we won. They said, "You are cheating!" I was furious because I didn't cheat but they cheated a lot.

Happy times go by very quickly. It was time to go back to school. I was over the moon although there were some annoying P3 students. I hope it was school trip every day.
